Just 5 more minutes . . . students miss record

THE CHRONICLE-JOURNAL

the fact that they were very very close. World Records anytime soon. But they can take some consolation in their names in the Guinness Book of

A group of PACI students won't see

The group of 14 students attempted ous line of 79,200 pennies in the fastest Sunday to set a record for laying a continutime as part of a fundraiser for the Keri said vesterday

Chase Foundation. They were trying to beat the record of two hours, 42 minutes organize such an event again if the stunad live more minutes, they feel they nd 29 seconds held by a group in England. "One of the kids was saying that if they dents wanted another shot at the record, beginning, and they were disappointed," Chase-Delisle, a foundation fundraiser, would have been able to do it," Leslie "They really had their hopes up at the Hammarskjold, Churchill and Hillcrest graduated and will be out of town pursuing post-secondary education in the fall. the students who took part Sunday have undraising drive which involved PACI The problem, she said, is that most of The event was part of a foundation by raising the most money during the e e c did c

brought in about $1,800 for the foundation Chase-Delisle said the fundraising drive Kern Chase was killed in a car accident at age 42 in November 2001. Throughout her life. Chase was dedicated to helping find homes for injured and stray animals serve her memory. teri's death to continue her cause and pre-

Her family formed the foundation after EDELIVERY OF THE CHRONICLE-JOURNAL FOR ONLY $4.30 PER WEEK. PHONE 343-6226 or 1-800-465-3914.

Chase-Delisle said the foundation would

PACI won the chance to go for the record